Trying to get the second part of my question answered, has anyone here completed the entirety of Breakthrough? Is it possible to play it online and match the achievements for it? If not, I have finished it, so what is the most effective way of earning all the awards? A: As of this morning, all official support for Breakthrough seems to have ended. Thiruvananthapuram: Kerala chief minister Pinarayi Vijayan on Saturday advised state govt employees to consider themselves "labourers" as many would not be able to afford loans to buy a house in coming years. "The economic scenario is very difficult. Even after giving loan for a house, there is no financial security," he said while delivering a lecture here. The CM's remarks comes days after he made a similar statement, urging state government employees to change their mindset. He also said that there was no dearth of jobs and most jobs were vacant. While he was reviewing the status of employment in the state, he said that one would understand how difficult it was to furnish a house with money. They have to understand that housing is a must today and not later in life. With money, they can afford it, provided they think before buying a house," he said. He also said that state government employees should not be treated as "shields" of the government. "Struggling to get promotion or opting out of the service, they should be treated as equal to the public and should be treated as a shield of the government," he said. He said a house was a necessity for everyone and he considered himself to be lucky that he was able to afford the one he occupies. He also said that the government was trying to give affordable houses to all categories of people, including those in the government service. "You (employees) are lucky to have a house, but others have to live in makeshift houses, he said. "Why should the government seek to protect government employees 1cdb3666d
